Organize a class field trip to the local media outlets

Interrogate editors, journalists and technical staff about accuracy in news reporting.

Screen a movie related to strengthen trust and solidarity in MIL development

Engage students to critically watch the content and verify it before sharing.

Team up and organize an activity with the school librarians

Make a quest or game to learn how to search for information and think critically about your sources.

Invite information, media and technology professionals to school

For discussion in classroom or general assembly.

Showcase short films created by students on selected MIL topics

To understand more about human rights, digital rights, and rights to privacy.

Record short video clips

Encourage students to record one-minute videos sharing their viewpoints on possible ways of nurturing trust and upload them on social media with #GlobalMILWeek.
